

EPIC
READERS

a Coral Horizon House imprint

presents

THE VIKING QUEST

a 3rd Grade Adventure Workbook

This adventure belongs to:

♦ 16 missions ♦ word study · comprehension · grammar · writing ♦ ages 8-9 ♦

Welcome, Brave Explorer!

Captain Bram

You're back! And we can tell you've been reading — you've grown into a real third-grader. Captain Bram and Captain Astrid at your service.

This year the missions get serious: prefixes & suffixes, homophones, longer chapter-style stories with hidden meanings, and your very own paragraph from scratch.

Sixteen missions. One last quest. Earn your title: Epic Reader: Captain's Class.

Captain Astrid

A note for grown-ups

This printable workbook is designed for third graders (ages 8–9) and steps up to prefixes and suffixes, compound words, synonyms and antonyms, homophones, syllables, multi-paragraph reading with inference, dialogue punctuation, cause and effect, sequencing, and a full paragraph of original writing — all in a Viking-adventure theme. Plan on 12–18 minutes per mission. Encourage your reader to answer in complete sentences and to re-read passages before answering. Happy sailing!

Your Adventure Map

Check off each mission as you complete it. Sixteen quests, one Epic Reader.

1 Captain's Log	2 Prefix Peak	3 Suffix Shore	4 Compound Cove
5 Synonym Showdown	6 Antonym Arena	7 Homophone Harbor	8 Syllable Skipper
9 Sight Word Chest 3	10 Story: Iron Compass	11 Story: Three Riddles	12 Dialogue Decoder
13 Cause & Effect	14 Order the Events	15 Write a Paragraph	16 Character Compare

Trace the dotted lines slowly.

Read each clue out loud.

Color when you're done!

Every Viking captain keeps a log — daily notes from the high seas. Start yours.

Today's date: _____

Captain's name: _____

Today's weather: _____

1. What is one book you are reading right now? Why do you like it?

2. If you could sail anywhere, where would you go? Use a complete sentence.

3. Write one goal for this workbook (be specific!).

 A real writer writes daily — even just one line.

A prefix is a tiny word-piece that lives at the front of a root word and changes what it means.

un-

means: not / opposite
unhappy, unlock,
unkind

re-

means: again
reread, retry, repaint

pre-

means: before
preview, prepay, preheat

dis-

means: not / opposite of
dislike, disagree,
disappear

Combine the prefix and the root. Write the new word:

un- + happy → _____

re- + write → _____

pre- + heat → _____

dis- + agree → _____

un- + lock → _____

dis- + appear → _____

✦ One little word-piece, brand-new meaning.

A suffix lives at the end of a word. It often tells you when, how, or how much.

-ed

means: in the past sailed, jumped, climbed

-ing

means: happening now sailing, jumping, climbing

-ly

means: in this way
quickly, bravely, softly

-er

means: more / one who...
taller, faster, sailor

-ful

means: full of helpful, joyful, peaceful

-less

means: without fearless, useless, endless

Add the suffix and write the new word:

help + -ful → _____ (full of help)

fear + -less → _____ (without fear)

slow + -ly → _____ (in a slow way)

jump + -ed → _____ (in the past)

sail + -ing → _____ (happening now)

tall + -er → _____ (more tall)

Smash two small words into one big one. That's a compound word.

sail + boat = sailboat

light + house = lighthouse

sun + shine = sunshine

sea + shell = seashell

rain + bow = rainbow

book + shelf = bookshelf

Now you build the compound words:

foot + print → _____

snow + flake → _____

butter + fly → _____

camp + fire → _____

star + fish → _____

back + pack → _____

Synonyms are words that mean (almost) the same thing. They make your writing more interesting.

big

huge · large · giant happy

glad · cheerful · joyful

brave

bold · fearless · daring

fast

quick · speedy · swift

smart

clever · wise · bright

tired

sleepy · weary · worn out

Write two synonyms for each word:

loud

small

angry

cold

Antonyms are word-opposites — like night and day, brave and afraid.

hot ↔ cold

brave ↔ afraid

full ↔ empty

north ↔ south

early ↔ late

begin ↔ end

shout ↔ whisper

asleep ↔ awake

Your turn — write the opposite:

young ↔ _____

strong ↔ _____

open ↔ _____

sweet ↔ _____

give ↔ _____

loud ↔ _____

Homophones sound the same but mean different things. Pick the one that fits — circle your answer.

their / there / they're their = belongs to them · there = a place · they're = they are

The crew packed ____ helmets.

their

there

Look over ____ — a whale!

there

their ____ sailing to the cove.

They're

Their

to / too / two to = toward / part of a verb · too = also / very · two = the number 2

Astrid wants ____ climb the mast.

to

too

It's ____ cold for swimming.

too

two

Bram caught ____ fish.

two

to your / you're

your = belongs to you · you're = you are ____ helmet is shining today.

Your

You're

____ a brave Viking!

You're

Your

Each syllable is one beat of sound. Clap as you say a word — that's how to count them!

sailor*2 syllables*

sail · or adventure*3 syllables*

ad · ven · ture

telescope*3 syllables*

tel · e · scope

compass*2 syllables*

com · pass

thunderstorm*3 syllables*

thun · der · storm

island*2 syllables*

is · land

Your turn — count and split each word:

helmet

How many syllables? ____

Split it: _____

butterfly

How many syllables? ____

Split it: _____

dragon

How many syllables? ____

Split it: _____

longship

How many syllables? ____

Split it: _____

library

How many syllables? ____

Split it: _____

sunshine

How many syllables? ____

Split it: _____

These trickier words show up everywhere in 3rd grade reading. Read, trace, write twice on your own.

thoughtthought _____throughthrough _____enoughenough _____laughedlaughed _____differentdifferent _____importantimportant _____answeredanswered _____believedbelieved _____receivedreceived _____experienceexperience _____weatherweather _____whetherwhether _____ 💎 Twelve more jewels in the captain's chest.

Bram's grandfather had given him an iron compass on his eighth birthday. The needle was a little crooked, and the wood smelled like sea-salt. "It always finds something true," his grandfather had said, smiling. Bram never quite understood what that meant — until the day the fog came in.

The longship was three days from home when a thick gray fog rolled across the water. Astrid could not see the sails. Mossy paced the deck and whined. Bram pulled out the compass. The needle did not point north. It pointed slightly west.

"That can't be right," Astrid said. But Bram remembered his grandfather's words and turned the ship west. They sailed slowly through the fog for an hour. Then, like a curtain pulling back, the fog opened — and there was a small rocky island none of them had ever seen.

On the island stood a tiny lighthouse, the keeper waving cheerfully. He had a basket of fresh bread and a warm meal waiting. Bram looked at the crooked needle and smiled. The compass had not pointed north. It had pointed to something true: a friend.

Answer in complete sentences when you can:

1. Who gave Bram the iron compass?

2. Why did Astrid say "That can't be right"?

3. What does the grandfather's phrase "something true" mean by the end?

4. The word cheerfully in the story means:

in a happy way

in a hurry

sadly

The old bridge to Greenmoss Island was guarded by a stone troll. Every traveler had to answer three riddles to cross. If they failed, the troll would send them home.

Astrid stepped forward first. The troll asked, "What has roots that nobody sees, is taller than trees, up, up it goes, and yet never grows?" Astrid thought hard. She remembered Stormy Mountain. "A mountain," she answered. The troll nodded.

The troll asked the second riddle. "I have cities but no houses, forests but no trees, water but no fish. What am I?" Bram remembered the old paper map under the rope. "A map!" he shouted. The troll smiled, slowly.

For the last riddle, the troll bent down to Mossy. "What gets bigger the more you take away from it?" Mossy tilted her head. Bram and Astrid laughed — Mossy could not speak. But Mossy began to dig at the bridge. A small hole formed, and grew bigger and bigger. "A hole!" Astrid said. The troll roared with laughter and stepped aside.

Answer the questions:

1. What was the answer to the second riddle?

2. How did Mossy help solve the third riddle?

3. What lesson does this story teach?

4. The word roared in the last paragraph means:

whispered

laughed loudly

cried

When a person speaks, the words go inside “ quotation marks ”. Use a comma before “said,” “asked,” or “shouted.”

Example: “Land ho!” shouted Bram.

1. watch out shouted bram

Rewrite with quotation marks, capitals, and the right end mark:

2. can you hand me the rope asked astrid

Rewrite with quotation marks, capitals, and the right end mark:

3. the wind is dying down said the captain

Rewrite with quotation marks, capitals, and the right end mark:

4. hooray we made it to the island cheered the crew

Rewrite with quotation marks, capitals, and the right end mark:

A cause makes something happen. The effect is what happens because of it.

CAUSE Bram forgot his coat, → EFFECT so he shivered all morning.

CAUSE A big wave hit the ship, → EFFECT so the crew got soaked.

CAUSE Astrid practiced her sword, → EFFECT so she became very strong.

CAUSE Mossy ate too many fish, → EFFECT so her belly hurt.

Your turn — finish each pair:

Cause: It started to rain.

Effect: So I _____

Cause: _____

Effect: so the dragon was happy.

Cause: Astrid lost the map.

Effect: So _____

These six events are mixed up. Put them in the right order from 1 (first) to 6 (last).

Bram and Astrid packed their bags for the climb up Stormy Mountain.

At the top, they found a tiny telescope wrapped in cloth.

A heavy rainstorm rolled in and they took shelter under a stone ledge.

They left the ship at sunrise and walked toward the foothills.

Mossy barked and ran ahead, leading them to the trail.

The rain stopped and they hiked the last part of the path together.

Clues to help you:

- What happens at sunrise?
- Who leads them at first?
- When does the rain hit?
- What is the very last thing they find?

What makes a great Viking captain?

Write a full paragraph. Follow this recipe:

1. Topic sentence — the main idea (e.g., "A great Viking captain has three big qualities.")
2. 2-3 detail sentences — give examples
3. Closing sentence — wrap it up

 Tip: Indent the first line! And don't forget capitals + periods.

After reading two stories about Bram and Astrid, you've learned a lot about them. Compare them in detail.

Captain BramBest quality:

What he is afraid of:

How he solved a problem:

Captain AstridBest quality:

What she is afraid of:

How she solved a problem:

Final question: Which captain would you most want as your friend, and why? Use the word because.

CERTIFICATE OF EPIC READING

awarded to

for completing all 16 missions of the 3rd Grade Viking Quest — prefixes, suffixes, chapter-length stories, and a whole paragraph written from scratch.

Captain Bram

Captain Astrid

 You're a real Epic Reader now.

Find more Epic Readers chapter books on Amazon — the 3rd Graders Girls Edition is the perfect next read.

epicreaders.coralhorizonhouse.com